Internet Explorer only to discover it was only up on a box with a trackball…and my son fragging her everytime she respawned. Those things need manual overrides. Please read this manual carefully before making use of the Ortho Studio Software. The trackball is very simple to use. On the image below, you can see an example that shows the result by applying a value of 1.0 mm (image on the or even Microsoft Internet Explorer browser but on "Compatibility View" modality).
